So what is the Household Concept?

Adams Woodcrest Assisted Living unveils an innovative concept for seniors who need assisted living...a home within a home. This unique physical environment honors privacy, fosters interpersonal relationships and promotes a quality lifestyle.

Adams Woodcrest Assisted Living is architecturally designed to be warm, welcoming and home. Within its walls, it consists of four households of fourteen apartments each. The larger apartments provide private space and each has its own living room, bedroom area, and kitchenette, while the studio apartments have designated space for a microwave and refrigerator. Leaving your apartment, you arrive in the household shared with your small community of neighbors. Here, an open kitchen, Bistro, formal dining room, and sun porch afford all the pleasures of a good life at home.

Adams Woodcrest Assisted Living environment and staff support are designed to encourage a good life each day. Residents design their own schedules and are afforded the respect, inclusion, courtesy and care that everyone deserves.

There is Always a Great View, and a Friend Nearby

It Makes A Difference Where You Call Home

We have a setting that is perfect for every senior. Some of us are more social than others and others like to be tucked away from the hustle and bustle a little more. Regardless, our views are inviting and invigorating and offer exquisite landscapes where every place is a reminder of home.

EXQUISITE VIEWS

Main Street...A bustling view filled with activity

Our Main Street view provides a feel of being part of every day activities. This is the place for you if you enjoy being around others.

Courtyard...A serene view of peace and quiet

Our Courtyard is nestled between the Forest and Main Street and offers residents a beautiful view and easy access to the great outdoors. If you enjoy walking outside, gardening, or just sitting quietly under a pergola enjoying the gardens and view, the Courtyard might be perfect for you.

Forest...An unparalleled view of nature

Woodcrest Assisted Living is situated in a country setting and nothing gets you closer to the country than a beautiful Forest. Our wooded areas are full of wildlife, seasonal flowers, and beautiful settings. You are only a few steps away from enjoying the sculpted paths to main destinations and the best nature has to offer. Every morning you'll experience beautiful nature scenes that bring warmth and delightful colors and the evening sunsets are simply astonishing.

People Mingle, Friends are Made and a Household Comes to Life

A Household is Where You Live Life Your Way

We understand that a building is not the same as a home, but most homes begin with a structure that contains those elements. A place for food preparation and sharing, a place to gather and communicate, and an environment that protects us from the elements. We believe that everyone needs a place to call home for all those reasons: comfort, safety, and human interaction. For many older people, it is a time in life when home is the most important. Protection, warmth, and meal sharing are an essential part of health and well-being.
